SAS Educational Analytical Suite

A little known fact is that you can use your site number (included in your order confirmation) to activate free online SAS classes. The NU license is part of the Education Analytical Suite, so as an added benefit you get access to free online classes offered by the SAS Institute. These are self-paced prerecorded classes that you can take at any time. The classes are really well made and cover many topics. To activate this benefit all you need to do is after you get your license go to <https://support.sas.com/myelearn> and enter G followed by your site number (e.g. G70073221).
